Purely Functional Package Management with Nix

with Eric Rasmussen, lead software developer at NewCars.com/Cars.com

This presentation will introduce the Nix package manager, demonstrating how to get started quickly with declarative packages on your favorite Linux distribution or even Mac OS X. We'll also cover the NixOS Linux distro built on top of Nix, including declarative configuration management, reproducible builds, and tools for simplifying deployments. Come learn about an emerging community working to take the pain out of package management for everyone on Linux.
